FAMILY BUSINESS ACT

THURSDAY, 05 APRIL 2018

For the first time in Malta and on a pan European wide lever Malta has introduced enabling legislation specifically to encourage the regulation of family businesses, their governance and the transfer of the family business from one generation to the next. The legislation by means of accompanying fiscal and governance incentives aims to encourage and assist family businesses to enhance their internal organisation and structure with the aim of effectively operating the business and working towards a successful succession of the family business. The seminar will explain how family businesses can avail themselves of the fiscal and governance incentives and acquire the status of a family business.

THE SPEAKER

DR NADINE LIA is the Regulator for Family Businesses who had the responsibility for developing and introducing policy and legislation specifically for family businesses which has been a first for Malta and internationally.

Nadine read law at the University of Malta, at the University of Western Ontario, Canada and at The University of Canterbury at Kent. She has read for a Bachelor of Law, a Diploma of Notary Public, an IFSP Certificate in Trust Law and Administration, a Doctor of Laws and after being awarded a British Council Chevening Scholarship, a Masters in Public International Law. Nadine is recognised as a European lawyer at the English Bar and is called to the Bar of England & Wales as a barrister, as a member of Honourable Society of The Middle Temple Inn and is presently a door tenant in Chambers in London.

Nadine has worked as a legal researcher at both the University of Western Ontario, Canada and at the University of Kent at Canterbury. Nadine subsequently pursued a career as a diplomat at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Malta. After being called to the English bar Nadine practised as a barrister in chambers in the Middle Temple Inn, London. After returning to Malta, Nadine joined the Attorney General's Office. Subsequently, Nadine became a partner in Maltese law firm following which she took up the role as legal advisor to the Ministry for the Economy, Investment and Small Business. Nadine is also a visiting lecturer and examiner at the University of Malta in the Faculty of Law and the Faculty of Economics, Management and Accountancy.
